Forward Looking Language

This Presentation, Offer and Circular and some of the material incorporated by reference into the Offer and Circular contains forward-looking information and forward-looking statements, as defined in applicable securities laws (collectively referred to as “forward-looking statements”). Forward-looking statements include possible events and statements with respect to possible events and include, but are not limited to, statements concerning the Offer and information concerning the Emera, the Offeror and ECI and their respective Affiliates. Other forward-looking statements relate to the anticipated tax treatment of Shareholders, the satisfaction of the conditions to consummate the Offer, the expected Expiry Time, the potential sources for funding of the consideration to be paid under the Cash Alternative and in connection with fractional Depositary Receipts, the need for, form of, and anticipated timeline for completion of a Compulsory Acquisition or Subsequent Acquisition Transaction, the anticipated timeline, terms and benefits of the completion of TECO Acquisition, the listing of the Depositary Receipts for trading on the BSE, the listing of the Underlying Emera Shares for trading on the TSX, the expected benefits of tendering ECI Shares to the Offer and accepting the DR Alternative, Emera’s dividend policy, together with other statements about operating performance, government regulatory or tax requirements, weather, general economic conditions, commodity prices, interest rates and foreign exchange rates, government regulation of operations and environmental risks and other statements that are not historical facts. All forward-looking statements are subject to important risks, uncertainties and assumptions because they are based on assumptions of Emera and/or the Offeror’s current expectations, estimates and assumptions regarding anticipated future events and circumstances. The words “plans”, “expects”, “is expected”, “scheduled”, “estimates”, “forecasts”, “intends”, “anticipates” or “believes” or variations of such words and phrases or statements that certain actions, events or results “may”, “could”, “would”, “might”, or “will be taken”, “occur” and similar expressions identify forward-looking statements. Such words and phrases should not be read as guarantees of future events, performance or results, and will not necessarily be accurate indications of whether, or the times at which, such events, performance or results will be achieved.

Forward-looking statements are necessarily based upon a number of expectations, estimates and assumptions that, while considered reasonable by management as at the date of such statements, are inherently subject to significant business, economic and competitive uncertainties and contingencies. The estimates and assumptions of management contained or incorporated by reference in the Offer and Circular which may prove to be incorrect, include, but are not limited to, the various assumptions set forth herein and incorporated by reference, as well as those related to: the timing and completion of the Offer, the timing and completion of the TECO Acquisition (including the satisfaction of the conditions to closing to such transaction), the expected benefits of the TECO Acquisition, and those relating to Emera’s consolidated net income and cash flow; the growth and diversification of the business and earnings base; future annual net income and dividend growth; expansion of business; the expected compliance with the regulation of operations; the expected timing of regulatory decisions; forecasted gross capital expenditures; the nature, timing and costs associated with certain capital projects; the expected impacts of challenges in the global economy; estimated energy consumption rates; expectations related to annual operating cash flows; the expectation of reasonable access to capital in the near to medium terms; expected debt maturities and repayments; expectations about increases in interest expense and/or fees associated with credit facilities; expectations regarding future liquidity of any securities.

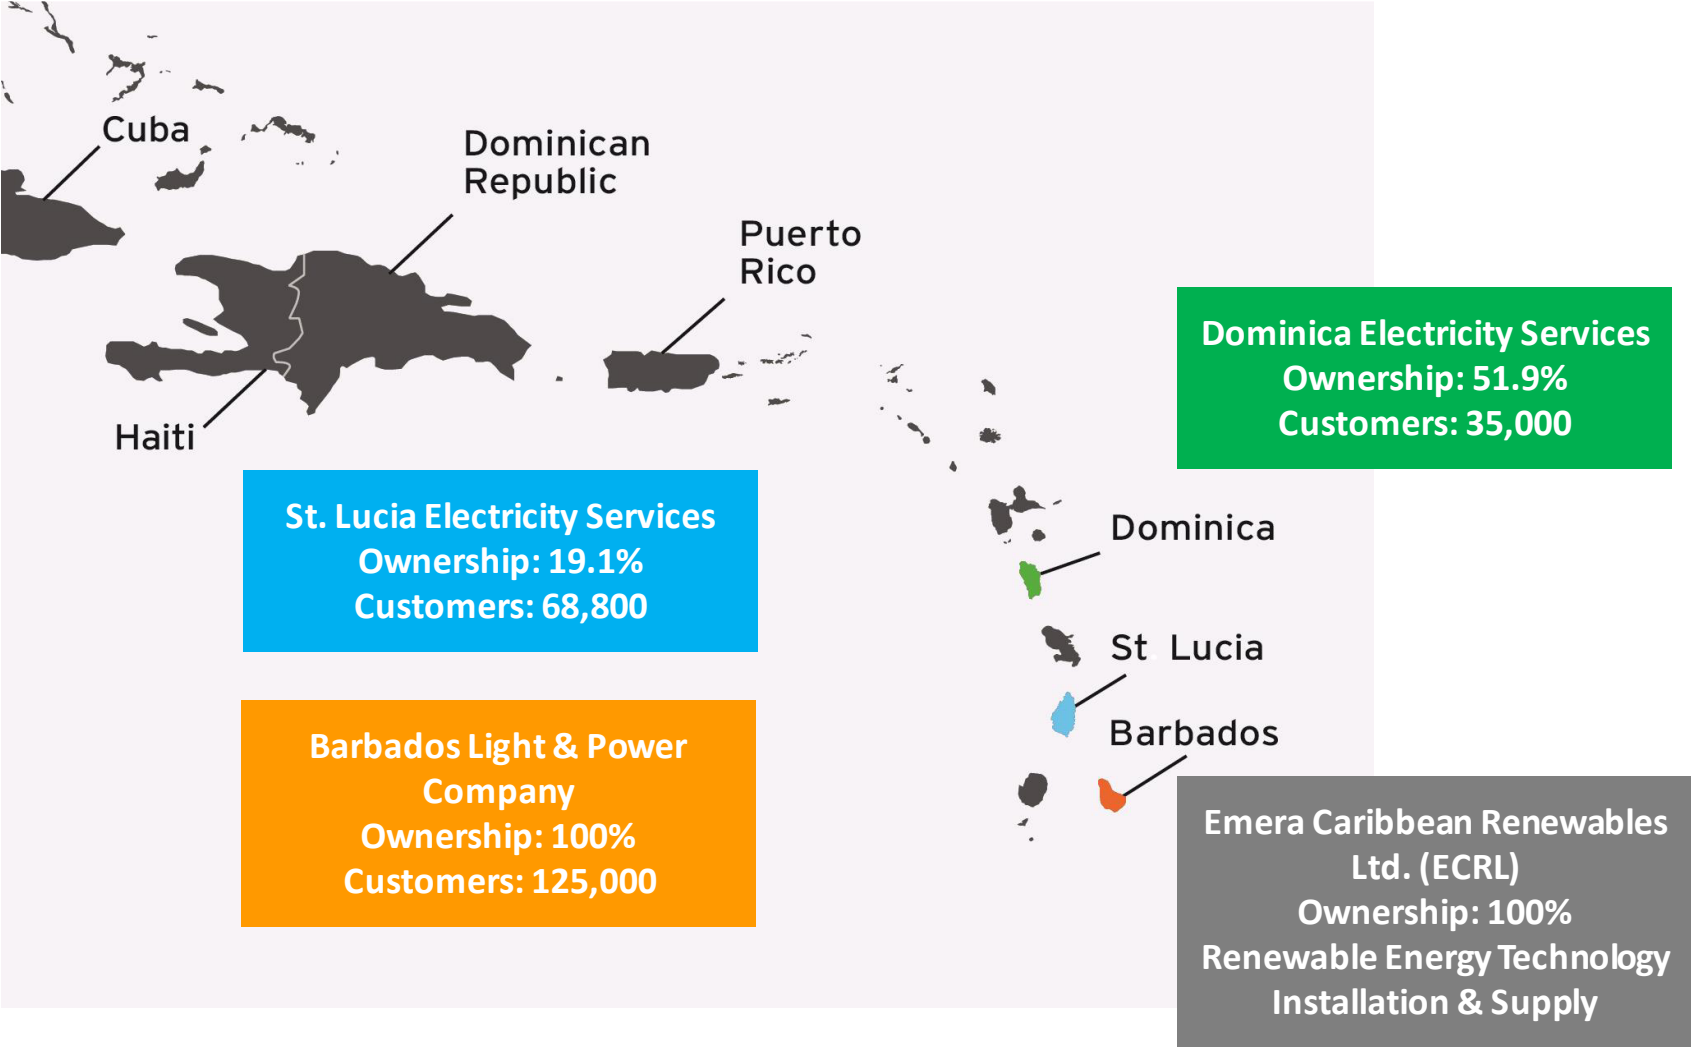

Certain risk factors could cause actual results or events to differ materially from the results or events or expressed or implied in the forward-looking statements, including those in the documents incorporated by reference. For a discussion of such risks, see in particular the Sections of the Circular entitled “Purpose of the Offer and Plans for ECI”, “Effect of the Offer on the Market for and Listing of ECI Shares and Status as a Reporting Issuer”, “Risk Factors”, together with those risks contained in the “Business Risks and Risk Management” section of Emera’s annual management’s discussion and analysis for the year ended December 31, 2014 and “Principal Risks and Uncertainties” in the Commitments and Contingencies note to Emera’s financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2014, as updated in Emera’s management’s discussion and analysis for the nine months ended September 30, 2015 and 2014. Emera and the Offeror caution you that the risks described above and in the documents incorporated by reference are not be the only risks applicable to Emera, the Offeror and the Offer and additional risks and uncertainties not presently known by Emera or the Offeror or that Emera and/or the Offeror currently believes are not material may also materially and adversely affect the successful completion of the Offer and/or the business, operations, financial condition, financial performance, cash flows, reputation or prospects of Emera and the value of the Underlying Emera Shares.

All forward-looking information in this Presentation and in the documents incorporated herein by reference is qualified in its entirety by the above cautionary statements and, except as required by law, the Offeror undertakes no obligation to revise or update any forward-looking information as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.

Depository Receipts

Offer Benefits

Support Agreements

Scott Balfour, EVP & CFO, Emera Inc.

What are Depositary Receipts (DRs)?

- A depositary receipt (DR) is a type of financial security that is traded on a local stock exchange but represents a security, usually in the form of equity, that is issued by a foreign publicly listed company. Depositary receipts allow investors to invest in shares of foreign companies in their local currency.
- DRs generally represent fractional ownership of the underlying stock, with each DR representing one half, one third, one quarter or even one tenth of an underlying shares. The price of the DR usually trades close to the value of the underlying shares on a currency conversion.

History and Size of Depositary Receipt Market

- There has been a long history of DRs with the first having been created in 1927 by JP Morgan.
- Since then, the market has grown significantly with more than 2,000 companies in more than 80 countries using DRs.
- The DR market is estimated at over US$3.3 trillion and continues to grow.

Benefits of Depositary Receipts

Advantages for the Shareholder

- Local investors get access to foreign companies' shares in local currency
- Permitting dividends and other distribution in local currency thus eliminating conversion risk
- Facilitate diversification into external markets
- Familiar trade, clearance and settlement procedures
- Easy to purchase, hold or sell on the local stock exchange
- Provides institutional investors with the opportunity to invest in international companies that otherwise may have been restricted
- Opportunity to benefit from economic growth in other countries

Benefits of Depositary Receipts

Advantages for the Issuer

- Build company visibility in foreign markets
- Broaden and diversify shareholder base
- Utilize DRs to facilitate merger and acquisition activity in acquisition currency
- Enlarge the market for the company's shares, thus increasing liquidity

Emera Depository Receipts

- Each Depository Receipt represents one quarter of one common share in Emera
 - Will receive dividends on Emera common shares (current yield: 4.5%)
 - DRs expected to mirror the trading price of Emera common shares on the TSX
 - Participate in any Emera share price appreciation (5-year average annualized total return: 12.1%¹)
 - Provides liquidity to ECI shareholders and ability to invest in a growing North American energy company.
 - Right to vote on Emera shareholder matters, receive detailed financial and operational reporting. Invitation to Emera' annual general meeting.
- Application submitted to list DRs on Barbados Stock Exchange for trading.

Offer Key Points

- 30% premium over current ECI share price
- Opportunity for Barbadians to invest in Emera on the BSE: The DR alternative offers an opportunity to swap their investment in ECI into a growing North American Energy leader, Emera.
- Liquidity: Current shares lightly traded with no change in value since previous offer in 2011. Offer provides liquidity to shareholders wishing to sell, and at a 30% premium.
- Unanimous recommendation of the independent members of the ECI Board
- Fairness Opinion: KPMG Barbados' opinion that the Offer is fair from a financial perspective to ECI shareholders.
- No changes planned to management teams or operations

Agreements and Support

APPENDIX

Types of Depositary Receipts

- There are two primary forms of depositary receipts which are both collectively referred to as International Depositary Receipts (IDRs):
 - American Depositary Receipt (ADR)
 - Global Depositary Receipt (GDR)
 - American Depositary Receipts (ADRs)
 - These are depositary receipts issued in the United States market for non-US companies. ADRs give non-US companies access to the US capital markets providing additional avenues to raise capital.
 - Global Depositary Receipts (GDRs)
 - Global depositary receipts are similar to ADRs except that they are issued outside the United States and the company's home country. They are generally issued in the currency of the country in which the GDRs are listed. With GDRs, investors don't have to worry about differences in currency, accounting practices or other barriers or risk associated with investing in the foreign stock directly.

Regulatory Oversight

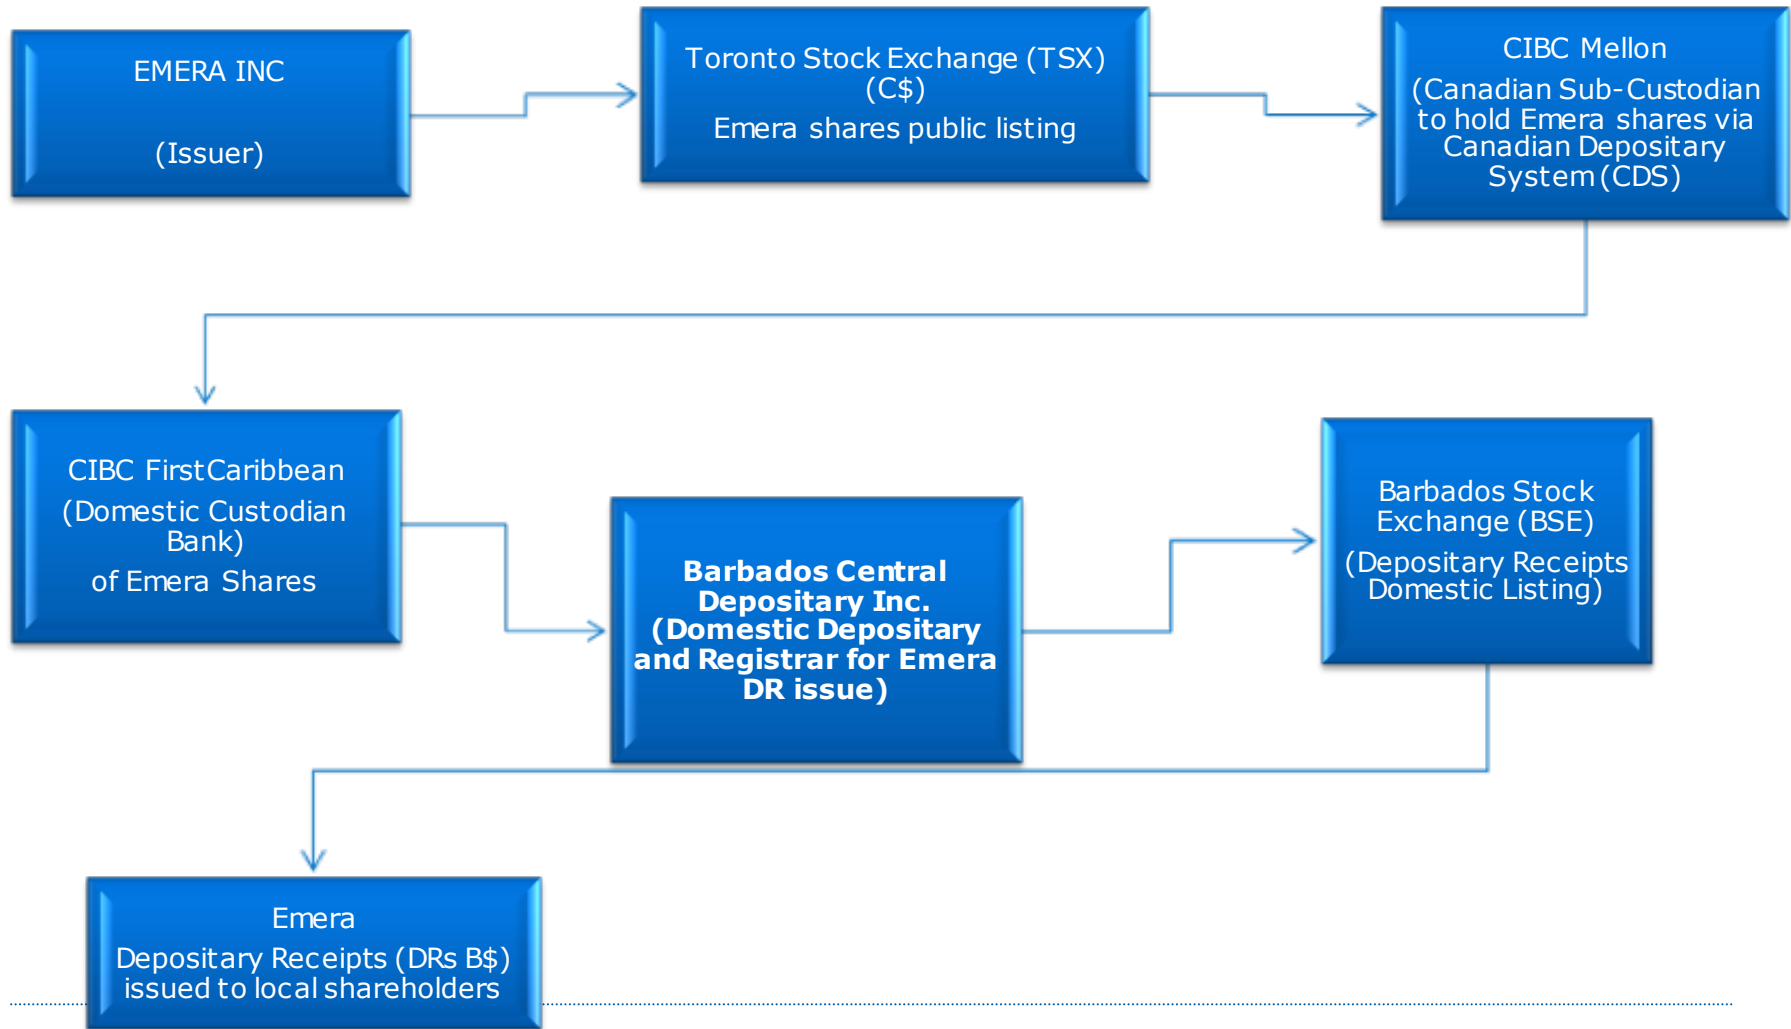

Financial Services Commission (FSC)

- The regulatory body responsible for administering and enforcing compliance with the Securities Act and other securities regulation including reviewing of any applications for listing on the local Barbados Stock Exchange.
- Provides the prerequisite approval for Depositary Receipts to be listed on the Barbados Stock Exchange.
- Emera's application and other supporting documents were submitted and reviewed by the FSC with respect to the offer to shareholders for Emera DRs for ECI shares.

Barbados Stock Exchange (BSE)

- BSE will list the Emera DRs on completion of the Take Over transaction to allow DR holders to buy or sell the DRs
- All listing terms and operations for the Emera DRs will remain similar to all other listed securities including:
 - Trades
 - Dividend payments
 - Reporting requirements
